Illinois State University
Illinois’ first public university
College of Applied Science and Technology

Health Sciences
- HSC 270, Global Contexts, is a short-term study abroad that allows Health Sciences majors to travel over spring break and earn major credit without disrupting their plans of study.

Kinesiology and Recreation
- Exercise Sciences has split into two sequences—Allied Health Professions and Health and Human Performance. The former is best suited for students who plan to pursue graduate school in an allied health profession (Athletic Training, Physical Therapy, Occupational Therapy, and Physician Assistant); the latter will prepare students to enter a variety of fitness, health, and wellness careers directly after graduation.

Technology
- Renewable Energy is now Sustainable and Renewable Energy.
- Major courses are articulated by the department. Please refer prospective students to Ashley Berg (ahowe2@IllinoisState.edu) for articulation help and advice.

College of Arts and Sciences

English
- English awards Bachelor of Arts degrees, which require college credit in a foreign language. Students need to take second year part I (LAN 115) or higher in a foreign language.

Geography, Geology, and the Environment
- New major in Environmental Systems Science and Sustainability, which includes courses from both the science and social science fields to study the impact and problem solving of environmental issues with the human population.

Math
- Kate Roberge is the new academic advisor for the department. Her contact information is kaaplin@IllinoisState.edu, (309) 438-7007.
- New accelerated B.S./M.S. program in Mathematics. Students will take both graduate and undergraduate classes during their senior year, obtain a bachelor’s degree, and can transition into their master’s degree program for one additional year.

Psychology

College of Business
