

Consortium Agreement between the Board of Trustees of Illinois State University and Heartland Community College

If you need to take classes at Heartland Community College to transfer credit back to ISU as part of your degree program, ISU has a consortium agreement with Heartland which allows ISU students to enroll in courses at Heartland and to be eligible for financial aid. In order for an ISU student to take courses at Heartland, you must be a degree-seeking student, and the courses must fulfill degree requirements at ISU. If you enroll at Heartland under the consortium agreement, you cannot receive aid from more than one institution during the consortium term. It is the student's responsibility to make sure Heartland understands that you are a student at ISU and that they should not process any federal or state financial aid for you. ISU will review and approve or deny all requests on an individual basis. For further information, contact the Financial Aid Office."
